

Data Conversions made easy !

Healthcare data extraction and conversion is the process of extracting data which includes demographic, administrative, clinical, financial/ claims and payroll from your legacy system and importing into your new destination system. During that process, the data format must to be converted into the new EMR or archival system data structure.

Santeware offers a wide range of data extraction services that include accurate analysis and timely reporting from a variety of sources.

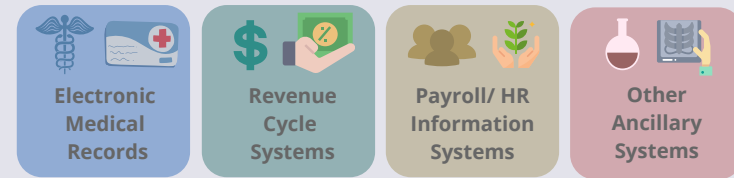

Our EMR Product Expertise Include:

• Complete List Available on Request

Source Systems

Santeware can extract and convert data from legacy EMRs, PMSs, ERPs, Accounting systems, Payroll system and other ancillary systems into any desired secured platform while preserving the quality of the data and supporting the ongoing use of archived information.

The Critical steps of EMR data conversion journey

Data can be converted into following formats:

Experience with multiple database types

